The Presidents Convention Scuttlebutt....

As our busy season starts to wind down, it is time to look forward to this year's convention! I am hoping everyone can attend as we return to Annapolis, MD- one of our oldest seaports in the United States and the birthplace of the CMCF (1982).

The last time the convention was in Annapolis was in 1990. If you have not attended before, this location is great. There is so much history here, where the Severn River meets the Chesapeake Bay.

Although the convention will not officially get underway until Friday afternoon, about 2pm, I am encouraging everyone to come a day early (Thursday). We are organizing a tour of the U.S. Naval Academy and a tour of downtown Annapolis, as well as a shop tour on Thursday evening.

Come for the learning, the friendship, and the fun. Hope to see you there!

Respectfully,

Ty Hancock, President CMCF
Shoreline Awning and Trim, Inc.
Pasadena, MD

PS: The networking and the exchanging of information between attendees of this convention is always worth "the price of admission." Please make plans to attend!
